Fshhhh...
I'm... ready.
poke...
After looking through his collection, Adam found a fitting right arm and left leg for Reszurre. We used a dragon fang needle to administer anesthesia, tied her limbs, sterilized everything, and proceeded with the operation.
Sever the limbs with your vibrating knife and treat the cuts.
I'll connect the flesh and bones and make sure it all fits together.
Every once in a while, Reszurre opened her right eye and looked around in a trance. That showed that the anesthetic had worked. Hardly anyone would be able to bear the pain of having all four limbs cut off, after all. I was worried about the pain after the surgery, but thanks to Adam's experience, it all seemed to go well.
